Short description

Work package 2 activity 1 (WP2A1) aimed to identify and analyse social actions developed and completed by universities in the Baltics in response to the ongoing Ukrainian humanitarian crisis. It included a mapping activity that resulted in a curated showcase and analysis of 20 citizen engagement initiatives coordinated by Baltic universities to address the Ukrainian humanitarian crisis (D1).

This document presents an untreated list of items. To read the full analysis and access the data interpretation please refer to Zourou Katerina, Oikonomou Stefania, & Samiotis Stavros. (2023). Administration (Faculty)	Engaging in difficult conversations, while learning more about collective and individual pain was part of the group's learning journey. Together they built skills for life while working at finding new ways to live with the struggles, the heavy stones of memories carried, and questions that trawns from displacement and war has brought. A key component of the workshop was centered in the healing power of storytelling and understanding the ways in which trawns can touch our brains, emotions, and actions daily.
